[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

EASTERN DATES TO MAY 18

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE

Progress of the Versaillists

PARIS May 17—Afternoon.—Auteuil and Versailles gates are destroyed by the bombardment. The neighboring bastions are silent under a terrific fire. Issy is now in the hands of the Versaillists. They bombard Petit Vanvre, Grenelle and Porte du Jour. It is believed the Versaillists are undermining the walls near Montle gate.

Dissensions continue among the Commissioners of the Commune.

Tremendous Explosion in Paris

PARIS May 17.—A terrible explosion occurred this evening in the eastern portion of Paris in the direction of Avenue du Trocadero. The effects were plainly noted here. It is believed a powder magazine near the fortifications was reached by shells from the Versaillists' batteries at Neuilly.

A Body of Versailles Troops Cut Off

LONDON May 17.—Later dispatches from Paris say the Versaillists occupying the village of Meudon have been cut off from communication with the main forces and are in danger of capture. The insurgent troops have returned from Petit Vanvres and Montrouge to the city.

Dispatch from Madrid

MADRID May 17.—Loret, Minister of Finance has presented his budget to the Cortes. The exhibit is favorable and well received.

Destruction of Column Vendome

PARIS May 16—Evening.—There was a tremendous scene at the fall of Column Vendome this afternoon. The fall was announced for two o clock. All the balconies in Place Vendome were crowded. Rues De La Paix Castiglione were also crowded. When M Abadie arrived and inspected the windlass the excitement was intense. Rochefort next appeared, the people giving him loud cheers. Soon all arrangements were completed and bugles sounded. The column, like the walls of Jericho was to fall from a blast. The cable was stretched and tightened but the column stood firm. The windlass broke and the pulley flew into the air and descended striking a sailor and wounding him.

After this accident Abadie declared he needed two hours in which to repair the tackle. Word was given out that the column would not fall before seven o clock. A general expression of disapprobation went through the crowd. Abadie was accused of complicity with the Versailles Government, and threatened with the guillotine. At twenty minutes past five o clock the cable was again stretched. Suddenly the vast column moved and swayed and then swept magnificently down, bursting into fragments as it struck the earth. It fell lengthwise in Rues de la Paix exactly on the manure cushion prepared for it. The crowd gave tremendous shouts "Vive la Commune" and the band played the Marseillaise. When the dust cleared away there lay the glorious column splintered to pieces, its bronze and masonry in two masses, together with the middle and statue of the Emperor several feet from one end of the column with the head knocked off. The crowd rushed forward to collect fragments as relics, and the guards were unable to resist the rush. Orators commenced speeches and indulged in all sorts of extravagant language. The statue of the Emperor was treated as if it were the Emperor himself. The National Guards spat into its face and struck it with their rifles.

WASHINGTON CITY

The Treaty with England

WASHINGTON May 17.—In the Senate to-day, in discussing the case of the Tribune correspondents, Morrill of Vermont said he had no doubt that facts when discovered would implicate some Senator at least in circle of ness.

Fenton's substitute was rejected by a vote of 21 to 28.

Trumbull offered an amendment to the pending resolution, adding the words "to be answered by witness touching the disclosure directly or indirectly through any member of the Senate or any officer employed there of what purported to be a copy of the Treaty of Washington now pending before the Senate in the Executive session." The amendment was agreed to, yeas 29, noes 25.

Sumner thought the Senate had gone far enough with the matter and had better now abandon it.

The resolution of Carpenter was agreed to, yeas, 42, nays, 14.

White was then brought from the Secretary's desk when the Vice President propounded the question to him. He said he was not prepared to answer and asked that leave be given till to-morrow noon for that purpose. Leave was granted and a similar course was taken with Ramsdell. Both were then released on parole to appear to-morrow.

EASTERN STATES

Dispatch from Halifax

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia May 17.—Elections were held yesterday and indicate a slight gain to the government or anti-confederate party.

Pennsylvania Politics

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—The Republican State Convention at Harrisburg to-day nominated Col David Stanner on the first ballot as Auditor-General and Robert B Bath for Surveyor General.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

The Recent Explosion in Paris.

LONDON May 18.—The Prussians are cutting fosses between Raincy and Montfermeil. They are expected to make an attack on the east side of Paris soon.

The Communist official journal accuses Versaillists of causing the cartridge explosion. La Verite demonstrates that the explosion was solely the result of accident. No shell fell in Champ de Mars at the time of the explosion.

Measures of the Commune.

NEW YORK May 18.—A special correspondent telegraphed from Paris last night that the police authorities of Hotel de Ville, with a guard of Franc tireurs, made a descent upon Peters' American restaurant and arrested 150 men and women who were supping luxuriously. The offense was that extravagance was not in keeping with the times. Among those arrested were several superior officers of the Commune, whom it has determined to punish for neglecting duty for pleasure. The statement that a civil commissary is to accompany each army of the Commune is confirmed. This is for the purpose of preventing a military dictatorship which the Commune fears will end in a return of the Imperial dynasty of Napoleon to the throne.

Shells are falling over all parts of the city. Great fears are manifested by the Communist authorities of a revolutionary attack upon Hotel de Ville and the guards around the building have been doubled. A reactionary movement is imminent and it is believed the late explosion formed part of a conspiracy against the Commune.

A special from Versailles says that last night a large body of insurgents advanced from their works in the front ramparts of Paris and attempted to surprise the Government forces at Neuilly but were promptly met by troops and after a sharp struggle were routed by a bayonet charge and drove back to Paris leaving behind many dead and wounded.

The destruction of Column Vendome by the Commune of Paris creates great indignation in military circles here. It is remarked by soldiers as a direct insult to the army.

A special from Paris says six hundred persons were killed by the explosion near Avenue de Trocadero last night. Most of them were women. The Commune has resolved to form a Central Club.

There is great agitation and distrust of the Commune. Arrests are becoming general.

It is supposed the Germans are about sending an ultimatum to the Commune.

Heavy columns of troops are massed near Passy where a battle is hourly expected.

VERSAILLES, May 16.—The Committee on the Treaty of Peace propose to the Assembly an exchange of territory in the neighborhood of Metz for that of Belfort.

It is reported that the Versaillists have carried Muette Gate.

The Committee of Safety appeal to the Nation als to secure a triumph describing fearful results otherwise.

The German Parliament

LONDON May 18.—A dispatch from Berlin last evening says there was a stormy discussion in the German Reichstag to-day on the right of members to inquire into actions of the Government. Liberals were vehement in demanding this right. This is the first conflict between the German Parliament and Government since the Reichstag has been in session. Southern members are exceedingly suspicious, and speak their minds plainly and with energy. The Reichstag sits three weeks.

A Spanish loan has been introduced.

It is said that Turkey will issue thirty millions of fresh consolides.

EASTERN STATES

The Erie Ring.

NEW YORK May 18.—Nothing can be ascertained with certainty as to Erie matters. The general supposition on the street is that the Erie Ring, thinking they will have to return their thirty thousand shares to the English holders, are now trying to purchase them as they have been quietly thrown on the market. The natural consequence of an increased demand is a rise in the price of stock.

WASHINGTON CITY

Proceedings in the Senate

WASHINGTON May 18.—Senator Sumner offered the following as an amendment to the rules: That all treaties with foreign powers be considered in public and open session unless submitted in special confidence by the President or ordered otherwise by a special vote of the Senate.

Conkling submitted an amendment by adding "And all other matter heretofore known as Executive business." The amendments were ordered printed.

CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—The auction of the Marin county tide lands to-day in the vicinity of Saucelito was poorly attended, less than a dozen purchasing. The greater portion was sold to the Saucelito Land and Ferry Company at from $40 to $420 per block. Total sales aggregating only $26,000.

"The Column of the Place Vendome is a negation of fraternity, and therefore let it be destroyed," is the latest fulmination of the maniacs who now desecrate the very name of authority in Paris. This magnificent bronze obelisk, one of the greatest triumphs of art in Europe and associated with memories so full of pride and glory for France, is doomed by the edict of a rabble remarkable only for its cruelty and vandalism. The column was cast from the cannon taken by the great Napoleon in the German campaigns and is a monument to the triumphs of French arms upon such memorable fields as Jena, Friedland and Austerlitz. It is fashioned after the column of Trajan at Rome and its splendid spiral friezes are an epitome of the more prominent scenes in the eventful military history of the First Empire. For years it has been a sort of shrine where hero worshippers from all parts of the world have come to make their oblations to the genius of the mighty Captain whose statue crowned it and scarcely a day passed but what some pilgrim added his wreath of immortelles to the wealth of floral offerings strewed about its base. How appropriate, therefore, is it that a work of art so dear to the heart of the great mass of Frenchmen should perish at the hands of the parricides who have not scrupled to strike a deadly blow at their country's life.—Cincinnati Advertiser

Harper's Bazar, among other noteworthy paragraphs in its latest issue, contains the following:—

John Ruskin who seems to lose his head when he forsakes art for politics, recently declared that it would be better that the people of Europe should perish than that they should become tainted with American ideas. With what disgust and alarm then must the enthusiastic admirer of mediæval notions observe the progress of American literature among those very people! Here is Dr John W Draper's History of the Intellectual Development of Europe in Russian, printed in two handsome volumes at St Petersburg,—an honor accorded to only one other American book, Uncle Tom's Cabin. Translations of Dr Draper's work have also appeared in French, German and Italian, and a handsome edition in two volumes has been published by Bell & Daldy in London. Translations of his history of the civil war in America into French, Russian and German, are also in course of preparation. Mr Ruskin will find his outcry against the influx of American ideas quite as vain and ridiculous as Mrs Partington's battle with the Atlantic Ocean.

A Western editor in response to a subscriber who grumbled that his paper was intolerably damp, says that it is because there is so much due on it.

THE NEW YORK "WORLD" ON THE TAMMANY GANG

From the New York Times

"Judas Iscariot was an apostle so long as the cause involved no personal peril and secured him the bearing of a bag plethoric with contributions of the faithful." So writes the New York World of Monday last in the course of an article devoted to fulsome laudation of the men whom, a year ago it denounced as swindlers and thieves. That the public may appreciate how apt is the World's reference above quoted to its own case we reproduce a string of "elegant extracts" from its files of March and April, 1870. At that time the World it need hardly be said, was the violent antagonist of the Tammany leaders. Those men have not improved in any way since but the World has been taxed. Finding the Tammany bag still more plethoric with contributions and far less liable to exhaustion than that of the Young Democracy the World assumed the livery of the "swindlers and thieves" and now bespatters these worthies with praise that is as ridiculous as it is venal. It is hardly worth while inquiring whether its past or present employers despise the World most.

1—"Boss" Tweed.

HOW HE MAKES HIS MONEY

Senator Tweed's treachery to the city by increasing, whose taxes he has become one of its heaviest tax payers, inspires a resentment which every honest Democrat in New York will share with their faithful representatives in the Senate and Assembly. Here we are plundered by him and such as him in all open and public and all private and dishonest ways. He thrives on percentages of pilfering; grows rich on the distributed dividends of rascality. His extortions are as boundless in their sum as in their ingenuity. Streets unopened profit him—streets opened put money in his purse. Paving an avenue with poultice enriches him—taking off the poultice increases his wealth. His rapacity like the trunk of an elephant with equal skill twists a fortune out of the Broadway widening and picks up dishonest pennies in the Bowery. And the system which shields fosters, and prolongs him and his rapacious tribe, he refuses to reform altogether, or consents to reform in part only long enough to betray those who believe his word.—World March 28 1870

HIS SABBATH FESTIVALS

The decencies of the Ring are of a piece with its morals. Mr Tweed passes his Sundays drinking punch in a stable. But that employment is so much more innocuous than his usual course of life, that perhaps we ought to congratulate him on his improvement, and commend him permanently to transfer his powers of absorption from charters to champagne.—April 4

HIS WONDERFUL PUNCH BOWL

Mr Tweed has a punch bowl, valuable curiously wrought, and given him by his friends in California. But it is not so curiously wrought as the Ring under his finger and not nearly so valuable as the presents unconsciously made him by the tax payers of New York.—April 4

JENKINS ON "PALATIAL STABLES"

Mr Tweed was worth less than nothing when he took to the trade of politics, for he was a bankrupt. Now he has great possessions, estimated all the way from $5 000,000 to twice as much. We are sorry not to be able to give his own estimate, but, unluckily he returns no income. But at least he is rich enough to own a gorgeous house in town and a sumptuous seat in the country, a stud of horses, and a set of palatial stables.—March 31

TWEED AND SWEENY ARE SWINDLERS

The result of Messrs Sweeny and Tweed's administration has clearly been to decrease the public revenues by the amount of their own gains minus the legitimate incomes at their employments, but plus the much greater sums they have parted with to their accomplices of the Radical Legislative Ring to secure a continuance of their power. That is to say, they have in a more or less circuitous manner, swindled the public to that extent.—March 31

NEW WAY TO PAY OLD DEBTS

Certainly there is no other city in the world where the pecuniary rewards of public service are so numerous and so rich as here under the sway of universal suffrage. Take Tweed. When that great man first offered himself for the suffrages of his fellow-citizens he was deep in debt. Notwithstanding this drawback and the further fact that the direct income of the places which he has filled is barely sufficient for a comfortable maintenance, Mr Tweed relied upon the generosity and right feeling of his fellow-citizens to make good to him the losses which he sustained by devoting himself to their service instead of his private emolument. He scorned to count the cost when the commonwealth demanded his devotion. The event has proved that he has not trusted in vain.

HIS NATIVE MODESTY.

Mr Tweed's native modesty shrinks from blazoning abroad the exact extent of his present wealth, or the exact means by which it was acquired. His sensitive soul revolts even at the partial publicity of the income list. We are tossed upon the boundless ocean of conjecture. But we do know from his own reluctant lips that this public servant who entered the public service a bankrupt has become, by an entire abandonment of himself to the public good, "one of the largest tax payers in New York." His influence is co extensive with his cash. The docile Legislature sits at his feet, as Saul at the feet of Gamaliel, and waits in reverent inactivity, for his signal before proceeding to action.

Turned by his nod the stream of honor flows
His smile alone security bestows

THE "MARLBOROUGH" OF AMERICA

Are we to ignore so shining an example of the gratitude of republics? Does not Mr Tweed's palace in town, Mr Tweed's villa in the country, Mr Tweed's sumptuous stables and Mr Tweed's numerous stud as plainly show forth the gratitude of New York to its Tweed as does Blenheim the gratitude of England to Marlborough or Strathfieldsaye to Wellington?

2—Mayor Hall.

That shameless corruptionist of the Ring. A creature and tool of the Ring. The Tweed charter confers on Oakey Hall, a servile tool of Tweed's, the power to fix things so that the people will have no influence in the city government either by electing Hall's successor or the Mayor who is to follow that successor. Mayor Hall is the creature ally and tool of the corrupt Ring. Whatever power is placed in his hands will be wielded by his creators or in servile obedience to their dictation.—April 5 1870

The State never paid over [illegible] 000 for these pretended services until Mr Sweeny's time. The $41 522 comes from the State Treasury. It is to an officer who [illegible] receives $21 000 in salaries [illegible] from $50 000 to $100 000 in [illegible] emoluments. Can the State afford this?

It pays Gov Hoffman for a year's service, $4 000; Controller [illegible]; Secretary Nelson $2 500, Attorney General Champlain, $2 000, Treasurer [illegible] a total of $12 500. Peter B Sweeny for five minutes $41 522.

The State pays for thirty three Judges of the Supreme Court $121 [illegible] Peter B Sweeny $41 522; the city and county pays $21,000 and emoluments say $60 000—a total of $122 522.

The State in 1869 gave to sixty four Orphan Asylums distributed over the State $61 733. The State and city gave in salaries to Peter B Sweeny $62 522 besides an equal amount of emoluments. [Mr Sweeny's brother in law now enjoys the comfortable sinecure.]

The Shade of Jefferson.

Since the enactment of the law to suppress the Ku Klux the Democratic press generally has been vigorously and pathetically invoking the shade of Jefferson in behalf of the imperilled theory and structure of "State Rights." It was said as long ago as 1833 by the secession "Democracy" of South Carolina, assembled in Convention to denounce the "broad usurpation" of an act passed by Congress to force [illegible] to remain in the Union, but the "character of our Government was changed into a military despotism." The same has been said by the "Democracy" of all the States of every principal act passed by Congress since 1861. Local liberty, we have been assured times without number, was just about to be swallowed up in a central despotism, and the rights of the States would be no more. A few years ago it was a dreadful act of centralization "to coerce a sovereign State in this Union"; and now it is an equally atrocious act for the Government to go into the Southern States to punish or prevent Ku Klux outrages. It is to avert the consequences of this last act of "usurpation" that the shade of Jefferson is now daily invoked. Now is the time, we are told, to reassert the principles of Jefferson, in order to save the structure of State rights and of local liberty from total overthrow.

The country now knows something more of Jefferson and his principles than it knew some years ago. It knows that he was the prime author of the theories of secession, which have cost so much controversy and commotion and blood. The principles he enunciated in his resolutions of '98 were the warrant for the secessionists to attempt to subvert the Union. The Democratic party had adopted those principles. Rebels stood on them, and neither attempted nor pretended to find any other ground for their action. Their secession Conventions and their Congress, first at Montgomery and then at Richmond, recited Jefferson's principles as their warrant, and pointed to the complete acceptance of these principles by the Democratic party as their justification. Democrats like Jo. Lane and Vallandigham argued that it was impossible, on the principles of State rights enunciated by Jefferson and accepted by the Democratic party, to oppose secession or resist the disruption of the Union. The country, knowing these things, has had enough of Jefferson's principles in regard to State rights and the powers of the Government. It wants no more of that doctrine. It fought for and established a substantial nationality, and is not willing to accept again the dogmas which plunged it into all the difficulties it has ever known. To accept them would be to contract again the foul disease that recently nearly destroyed it.

Had Jefferson's agency in originating this plague in our politics been known in his time his general reputation would have been a different and his success much less complete. But it was at the time profoundly secret and indeed was not made known till after his death, by which event the severity of criticism was mitigated. The doctrine itself slumbered for many years till it was revived and carried into effect by the secessionists. Jefferson dared not avow it in his time, but under the security of personal concealment sent it forth to do its baleful work. The country knows all this now, and it knows by woful experience the effects of Jefferson's principles. And these principles are just what the country does not mean to revive and accept again. It is quite unnecessary, therefore, for the Democratic party to cry out against such acts as the Ku Klux law and exclaim that the country must get back to Jefferson's principles. It is not going back to them.

French Republicanism.

When, in 1806, after the return of the Great Napoleon from Austerlitz, it was proposed to erect a column or monument at Paris in Place Vendome out of the cannon captured on that field where French arms won the greatest glory they ever achieved, the population of Paris was wild with delight and hailed the project with all the enthusiasm of the French nature. The municipality, eager to minister to the national vanity, at once voted the monument, and a triumphal column was constructed, surmounted by a statue in bronze of the Emperor. The guns, melted down and cast anew, assumed the mould of the principal actions of the campaign. The column was the pride of Paris and France. On the fall of Napoleon the statue on the top of the column was carried off by the Emperor Alexander as a trophy of victory to St. Petersburg. In 1831 Louis Philippe, with a design both of conciliating the Napoleonists and gratifying anew the vanity of the French, ordered a new colossal statue of the Emperor to be placed on the summit of the column. Again the populace of Paris became delirious with joy, and so violent were their demonstrations that the matter became serious, when the Government with great good sense ordered out all the steam fire-engines, which by copious effusions of cold water cooled the ardor of the multitude and dispersed them. This column was the grandest structure of its kind in the world. It rose from a base of 147 by 73 feet to a height of [illegible] 32 feet. Its central archway was 45 feet broad and 90 feet high. On the inner walls were inscribed the names of all the great military men and all the great victories of France. This grand structure, once the pride of the Parisians, has now been overthrown, and a multitude like that which shouted with mad enthusiasm when Louis Philippe restored to its place the statue of the great Emperor, now treats the broken fragments with every indignity. Then, they would have torn limb from limb the unhappy wretch who had dared to breathe a word against the memory of the Emperor, now, they would treat similarly the person who would have the temerity to speak in his praise. Yet this inconstant populace, great as is their present apparent hatred of Imperialism, which they design to manifest their condemnation of by destroying the magnificent column, would now follow a Napoleon with a blind devotion if they could find one to lead them to victory and glory, and would end by placing on his head the Imperial crown. And these are the "Republicans" of France who are committing their habitual and characteristic crimes in the name of Liberty!

Four years ago the Democrats of California made the fight exclusively on the "Heathen Chinee," and undoubtedly did make a good deal by their low and absurd demagoggism, But the whole imposture is now so effectually exploded that their papers and orators do not mention it.

The Jacksonville Times reports that many persons are arriving in that part of the State from California, in search of homes.

Revolutionary Intent.

The Washington Patriot, a paper which aspires to be the "national organ of the Democratic party," doesn't like to have revolutionary designs imputed to the peaceful organization which it represents. What that organization did in its last national platform, at the instance of Southern "Democrats" fresh from the bloody fields of the rebellion, pronounces for a new revolution, and does still cherish the same purpose which it gives utterance to more or less emphatically according as its hopes of success in the next election rise and fall. Therefore the Patriot prints a considerable number of extracts from Southern papers to prove that Southern Democrats cheerfully accept reconstruction and the constitutional amendments, and have no desire to disturb them. One of these papers which are quoted as "accepting the situation,"—the Selma (Ala.) Times—says that if the Northern Democracy "are satisfied that the amendments should for the present be acquiesced in, so be it." Yes, "for the present," but not after the Democratic party obtains full power. The revolutionary intentions of this party are manifested even in its efforts to deny and conceal them.

The Elliott-Holladay Suit.

The San Francisco Bulletin of the 10th corrects some errors it made in a previous statement in reference to this suit, and says that the deposition of Mr. Holladay was to the following effect:

First—That at the time of the formation of the co-partnership between Holladay, Emmett & Elliott, in September, 1868, Elliott made false representations in regard to the amount of work done, the amount of machinery on hand, his qualifications as an engineer or railroad builder, the future cost of constructing the road, etc., and upon which representation the partnership was based.

Second—That subsequently Elliott proved to be wholly incompetent as an engineer and superintendent of construction; and for these and other reasons he was discharged as superintendent, and a suit was at once commenced in Oregon by Mr. Holladay for a dissolution of the firm, and to avoid which Elliott absconded.

Third—Six months after this, on account of defects in the organization of the old company, and to get rid of embarrassments and litigation by reason of a rival company in Oregon of the same name, the old Oregon Central Railroad Company, after transferring all its franchises to the Oregon and California Railroad Company, was dissolved. This transfer had no relation whatever to Elliott, as he had already left the country, and a suit was pending to dissolve the copartnership.

Suppose the Germans had thrown down the Column Vendome, during their occupation of Paris, how would the Red Republicans have made the world ring with denunciations of the "act of Vandalism!" But the French have themselves destroyed the work, and the Red Republicans the world over will probably applaud the act. A short time ago the mob of Paris would have torn in pieces the person laying violent hands on this monument of "French glory." Now, they would tear in pieces any one attempting to prevent its destruction, and even threaten with the guillotine the man in charge of the vandal work, because the column didn't fall quite soon enough! Here is a drama which is true to French character and sentiment, throughout.

OREGON.

The Enterprise says that every tenable house in Oregon City is taken, and there is continual inquiry for more.

L. S. Dyar of Salem has gone to Fort Simcoe Indian Reservation, where he will have superintendence of the schools of the Agency, under Agent Wilbur.

From the Oregon City Enterprise: "During the session of the Legislature, the Herald published several letters, and endorsed them editorially, protesting against the appropriation of the 500,000 acres of the lands given to the State for internal improvements for other purposes than the public school fund. How is it now in defending a bill which was leagued with others that would have exhausted all the lands? There appears to be a little going back on the record in this matter." We are quite astonished at the Enterprise. Can it be possible that it has not heard of that $500 transaction?

CURRENT NOTES.

The assets of the Order of Odd Fellows in California amount to $779,205 05, the libraries alone being worth $102,501. Total number of members, 13,706.

The majority for Jewell for Governor of Connecticut was 86. Of course in this count the 100 votes which the Democrats tried to steal from him were included.

Sir John Herschel's death is reported from London. He was the son of Sir William Herschel, the eminent astronomer, and himself almost as devoted to that science as his illustrious father. He was about 80 years of age.

A New York dispatch of the 10th says: The steamer Russia arrived this evening, having on board General Sheridan, Mrs. Lincoln and young Tad. Lincoln. They were met down the bay by Collector Murphy and a number of Generals of the army and other friends.

Gen. Joseph Hooker has been elected President of the Society of the Army of the Potomac in place of Gen. Meade, who served last year. Gen. Sheridan was at the same time elected President of a new organization known as the "Cavalry Association of the United States."

The Russian Language is said by writers of distinction to be one of the richest and most beautiful in the world. Singular as it may seem to those who have seen the printed words without any knowlege of their pronunciation or meaning, we are credibly informed that the language is soft and agreeable in sound, and has not the defect of the Italian in being too effeminate; it also contains many words that express the same ideas. There is very little national literature in Russia, but we are told that if ever a Sclavonic Milton or Shakespeare arise, he will find an inexhaustible treasure in his native tongue wherewith to express his thoughts. The Russian alphabet has twenty-six letters, of which a great number are vowels, many of them purely Greek characters. Scholars find no little similarity between Russ and Greek, and the Highlanders see in it a resemblance to Erse. In printing the language with Roman letters, those words which appear to be spelled with so many consonants, merely contain letters of which we have not the equivalent—shtch, cz, tch, etc., are each expressed in Russian by a single character. Proper names have, as with the ancient Greeks, a termination denoting parentage; vitch for the males and ovna for the females. Thus, Dmitri Ivanovitch, means Demetrius the son of Ivan; Cleopatra Ivanova, Cleopatra, the daughter of Ivan, and so on.

A humorous story is told of two prominent members of the House of Representatives, when the onslaught on slavery first began to assume formidable proportions in Congress, Joshua R. Giddings of Ohio and John Snyder of Pennsylvania, the latter a pro-slavery Democrat, and the former an abolition leader, who occupied one of the double desks then in use. During the absence of his associate, Snyder had a board partition placed down the centre of the desk, designed to satirize the alleged disunion schemes of his neighbor. Giddings was surprised on his return, but was too fond of a practical joke to be outwitted. He had two slips printed in large type, containing the well-known couplet:—

> "Great wit to madness nearly is allied,
> And thin partitions do their bounds divide."

These he posted on each side of the division. The laugh was now against Snyder, and the partition was promptly removed.

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—A movement is on foot to incorporate Brooklyn, San Antonio and the entire Encinal de Alameda with Oakland, and a majority of the property holders interested appear favorable to the project.

The fact that the California Pacific Railroad is to be extended to Ogden, is now established beyond a doubt. It is asserted positively that a part of the programme will be running trains directly through from New York to San Francisco without change of cars, and all intermediate lines will be arranged accordingly. The building of a bridge for that purpose over the Missouri river is part of the programme, and the means for completing the work have been raised already.

August Kamp, the young German who was shot by Devine, alias "The Chicken," is still in a hopeful condition, though the attempt to extract the ball to-day was unsuccessful. Measures have been taken to put his evidence in a form to be available for use on Devine's trial, in case the wound proves fatal.

The proprietor of the Golden City, a literary paper, was arrested to-day, on a charge of violating the law in publishing a scheme for the distribution of prizes to the subscribers of his paper and selling receipts entitling holders to chances in the drawing.

This afternoon the Women Suffragists adopted a resolution, declaring that they want political offices for women as well as men. The convention is still in session.

Col. H. C. Whitely, Chief of the Secret Service, Division of the Treasury Department, and E. C. Banfield, Solicitor of the Treasury, arrived here to-night.

The disclosure of arrangements for the construction and extension of the California Pacific railroad to Ogden creates much comment here. The enterprise is generally received with much favor.

The Women suffragists had 13 female and 21 male delegates in attendance to-day. They have called for police to maintain order this evening.

The new cent coins are in large demand for gambling purposes, but the attempt to put them in circulation as money is a failure.

We take pride in subjoining the following testimonial from one of the ablest educators in America, together with that of the entire corps of Normal Teachers with whom we had the great honor to labor.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, FIRST STATE NORMAL SCHOOL,
WINONA, April 18, 1871.

It affords me great pleasure to bear testimony to the high personal and professional qualities of Professor J. B McGibeny, who for two years presided with entire acceptance over the Department of Vocal and Physical Culture in this Institution. To a thorough knowledge of the philosophy of Calisthenics and Vocal training possessed by but few, he superadds an enthusiastic devotion to his profession, and an industry surpassed by none. With an experience of more than a quarter of a century in the Normal Schools of this country, in whose courses of study Vocal Music has occupied a prominent position, I do not hesitate to say that I have never met with the peer of Professor McGibeny as an instructor in this department.

I commend him and his excellent wife, who also possesses rare powers as a teacher and musician, to the confidence of all who can appreciate the value of a true and rational mode of culture for the children and youth of our country.

WM. F. PHELPS, Principal.

I heartily concur in the above
C. C. CURTISS, Dep't of Accounts.

The undersigned Teachers in the First State Normal School of Minnesota, also concur in the foregoing testimonial of Professor Phelps

CITY.

RAINY WEATHER.—We have received some verses of poetry on this most uninviting subject written by a gentleman at Salem, who is not altogether unknown in the literary world. We had never thought "Oregon weather" to be a subject upon which the "divine afflatus" could not be induced to descend; and this effort comes very near confirming us in that belief. We print the verses for the sake of getting in a left hander upon the weather. The poetry is not so bad as the weather, ...

Hail fickle skies of Oregon—
Sun, rain, Scpouth, or what you will—
Whatever changeful dress you don
The constant "Webfoot" loves you still;
For he is grave, though his affairs
Just so swimmingly,
And frowns through all these fitful airs
Your jokes are never dry.

The blooming eve's and mornings mild
Are not prophetic here at all;
The heavens, sleeping like a child,
May wake, to-morrow, with a squall,
Then your umbrella now is spread
Against the threatening frown,
To but a shower of smiles, instead,
That goldenly sweeps down!

The native belles, though rich in style,
Are never known to idly fret,
But wear a pensive, oily smile
That is impervious to wet;
And, while they wonder, wink, and stare,
Not know what to put on—it's
So unlikely to be fair—
They all wear "duck's" of bonnets.

Even as I write, I look abroad,
Just see a glimpse of lovely May,
And find her busy in the road
With awful pastries made of clay!
Those muled curls and draggled skirts
Bebe the romping queen—
Meekly wears her sweet deserts—
So newly young and green!

The buttercups that laughed and swung
Upon the bright and billowed hill,
Their chalices have lowly hung
Since they, alas, have had their fill;
The very birds are late to rise,
And mope, all dull and snarly,
While some of them deride the skies
With "For the wave to Charley!"

THE OREGON CHURCHMAN.—We have received the first number of the Oregon Churchman, published by the authorities of the Protestant Episcopal church, and printed at the office of Himes & [illegible] in this city. It contains a "Pastoral" ... and congregations of the Oregon diocese, from Bishop Morris, accounts of St. Paul's church, Salem, St. David's, East Portland, and St. Andrew's Chapel, Kalama, editorials on "Our Purpose," "The Apostle's Creed," "Calendar for May," "The Bishop Scott Grammar School," etc., and selected matter on various subjects, mostly religious. It is a handsomely printed quarto, the whole sheet being about half the size of the DAILY OREGONIAN.

QUICKEST AND CHEAPEST ROUTE TO THE EAST.—The Oregon Steam Navigation Company have made connections with the Northwestern stage line and railroad at Kelton, so that passengers can make the trip from Portland to Chicago in seven days. To Chicago, first class, $135; second class, $122 50, over any of the roads from Omaha. We ask especial [illegible] of travelers to the advertisement.

CORRECTION.—In reporting the proceedings of the Grand Lodge, we committed an error yesterday morning, in saying that the Grand Lodge adopted a report adverse to the right of the Grand Lodge to govern the Odd Fellows' Mutual Life [illegible] Association. The committee made an adverse report, but the lodge adopted by the [illegible] vote stated, an amendment to give such right to the Grand Lodge, and then adopted the report as amended.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.—Mr. A. B. Richardson sold at Guardian's sale yesterday, to the highest bidder, lots 5 and 8, in block 12, [illegible] Addition, for the handsome sum of $11,-[illegible]. Mr. E. Corbett was the purchaser. The property is a quarter block situated on the corner of North First and C streets, having a [illegible] east front, and though it is desirable [illegible], the price is considered a good one.

THE BIRD HABEAS CORPUS CASE.—The case of Wm. B. Bird was up before Judge Deady yesterday, coming for hearing. The return of General Canby, commanding General of the Department, was filed and the showings in the case submitted, then Judge Deady continued the case till this [illegible] for argument.

TO GOVERNMENT CONTRACTORS.—Parties desirous of bidding for supplies required by the Quartermaster's Department during the ensuing year at the various posts in the Department of the Columbia, can obtain the necessary blanks upon application to General R. Saxton, Chief Quartermaster.

VISIT TO THE INSANE ASYLUM.—The members of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., having been invited by Dr. Hawthorne to visit the Insane Asylum, the Lodge adjourned yesterday at an early hour, and most of the members availed themselves of the opportunity to visit that institution.

SHALL AFFLICT THEM.—The editor of the Herald having failed to set the Chief of Police upon the Chinese women, has concluded to disgust them out of the country with his poetry. We guess they'll quit now.

PICNIC POSTPONED.—We are authorized to say that the Union Sunday School picnic, announced to take place on Saturday, the 20th, has been further postponed, on account of the rainy weather.

SPECIAL CHURCH SERVICES.—Rev. Mr. Frederiksen will preach and conduct services at the Lutheran church at 3 o'clock P. M. on Sunday, in the Norwegian language.

WHARF ENLARGEMENT.—Capt. Flanders is having an additional platform or extension built to his wharf between North Front street and the main wharf at C street.

PERSONAL.—Ben Holladay arrived home by the [illegible] train yesterday, having traveled overland from California.

EXTRA SESSION.—For the accommodation of [illegible] men, ladies and young people who may wish to study the beautiful art of writing, an evening class will be organized at the National Business College, Portland, Oregon, on Monday evening, May 22, 1871, at 6½ o'clock, under the supervision of W. S. James. Those wishing to take instruction under a first-class teacher, will need no urging, as Mr. James is well known as a successful instructor. Terms, $5 per month, invariably in advance. Pupils can join at any session, as the month commences from time of entering. For particulars see teacher.

NEW HARDWARE STORE.—John R. Foster has [illegible] a Hardware store on corner of Front and Stark streets, and in his advertisement calls special attention to his stock of builders' hardware.

The Governor of Massachusetts has appointed Mrs. Julia Ward Howe and Mrs. Stevens Justices of the Peace in and for the city of Boston. The appointments await confirmation by the Executive Council.

GRAND LODGE I. O. O. F.

SIXTEENTH ANNUAL SESSION.

THIRD DAY, THURSDAY, MAY 18.

The session was opened as usual by the M. W. Grand Master, Wm. Dierdorff, and the minutes of yesterday were read and approved.

ADDITIONAL MEMBERS ADMITTED.

The Committee of Credentials reported that Brothers James Orr, of Vancouver Lodge No. 3, W. T., and J. M. Caywood, of Samaritan Lodge No. 2, were entitled to seats as Representatives in this Grand Lodge.

The Grand Lodge Degree was then conferred on Representative James Orr, of Vancouver Lodge No. 3, W. T., J. M. Caywood, of Samaritan, No. 2, and T. H. Crawford, of Hassalo, No. 15, and they were admitted to seats.

QUESTIONS SUBMITTED.

The following two questions were offered and referred to the Committee on the State of the Order:

Question 23—If the by-laws provide the penalty of expulsion for an offense and upon a vote being taken, two-thirds of the ballots are not in favor of expulsion, what course shall the lodge then pursue?

Question 24—Has a complaint against a brother when handed to the N. G., and read in open lodge, to be placed upon the minutes in full, stating the matter of the complaint?

INSTRUCTIONS.

The remainder of the forenoon was spent in secret session, for the purpose of receiving instructions in the unwritten and secret work, from the R. W. Grand Representative, Silas J. Day.

AFTERNOON—QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

The Committee on the State of the Order, to whom were referred several questions, reported back the following, with answers:

Question 11—Has a lodge the right to use the widows and orphans' fund for educating an orphan known not to be the orphan of an Odd Fellow?

Answer—No. Adopted.

Question 12—Has a lodge the right to appropriate lodge funds for charitable purposes outside the order?

Answer—Yes; but careful discrimination should be exercised in such appropriations. Adopted.

Question 14—Must the N. G. and V. G. elect, in order to qualify them for installation, have their charges committed to memory in full, or are the opening and closing charges sufficient?

Answer—Opening, closing and initiation charges must be committed. Adopted.

Question 16—Is a motion to adjourn in a subordinate lodge in order?

Answer—A motion to adjourn is not in order at any time. A motion "to close" is the proper one, and the usual form of closing must be gone through with. Adopted.

Question 17—Can a member of the order, being in possession or having an order for the A. T. P. W., be refused admission to visit a lodge who has not the word to communicate?

Answer—A duly authenticated order for the A. T. P. W. is of the same force as the P. W. itself. Adopted.

Question 18—When it comes to the knowledge of a lodge that a member thereof is sick and unable to attend to his usual avocations, what is the duty of the lodge in regard to his weekly benefits, no report or claim upon the lodge having been made from the Relief or Visiting Committee, or the sick member?

Answer—If committees fail to do their duty, the local law for their punishment should be enforced. A sick brother needing relief should receive it regardless of the fact that committees may have failed to do their duty. Adopted.

Question 21—Is it a violation of the rules, regulations, or laws of the order for a member to communicate to any person not belonging to the order, or an ancient Odd Fellow, the fact that he intends to prefer accusations against a brother of the order, and if so what is the penalty?

Answer—We know of no penalty for a brother telling what he intends to do. We cannot approve of such indiscretion, however, in a brother. Adopted.

Question 22—Can an applicant for membership by deposit of card remain in the lodge-room during the time of balloting upon his application?

Answer—Propriety would suggest that an applicant for membership by deposit of card, should withdraw to the ante room (if he be present in the lodge room) during the consideration of his application. Adopted.

A VISITING INVITATION.

An invitation was received from the Rebekah Degree Lodge of Portland to visit the session of that lodge this (Thursday) evening—which was accepted.

AN INTERESTING CASE INVOLVING THE LIABILITY OF A LODGE FOR BENEFITS.

The Committee on the State of the Order submitted the following report:

To the R. W. Grand Lodge of Oregon:—The Committee on the State of the Order, to whom was referred the petition of Olive Lodge No. 18, in relation to Mrs. Rosalie Davis vs. Apollo Lodge No. 123, of San Francisco, California, ask leave to report:

We have carefully examined the subject presented in this petition, and after due consideration of the matter are of the opinion that the conclusions arrived at by Olive Lodge No. 18, as to the construction of law are correct; and we recommend that this G. W. Grand Lodge respectfully request the M. W. Grand Master of the R. W. Grand Lodge of California, in the exercise of the powers vested in him to enforce a compliance of the subordinate (Apollo Lodge No. 123) with its laws and the payment of the amount demanded by Mrs. Rosalie Davis of Salem, Oregon, widow of the late brother G. C. Davis. We submit the following resolution for your approval:

Resolved, That the R. W. Grand Secretary is hereby directed to forward to the M. W. Grand Master of the R. W. Grand Lodge of California, a copy of the petition and papers in the above case, from Olive Lodge No. 18, together with a copy of the proceedings of this Grand Lodge in the matter, under the Grand Lodge seal and signed by the proper officers. Fraternally submitted,

E. ST. JOHN,
A. L. STINSON,
J. J. MURPHY,
Committee.

[A brief statement of the above case may be made as follows—REPORTER.]

Rosalie Davis, widow of the late G. C. Davis, who was a member in good standing in Apollo Lodge, No. 123, California, claims from that lodge $765, with interest, as weekly benefits and funeral benefit. The lodge refuses to pay the full amount, but offers to pay $260. The facts, as set forth in the petition of Olive Lodge, No. 18, above referred to, are, that G. C. Davis was a member in good standing of Apollo Lodge, No. 123, California, on the 1st day of November, 1868; he had attained to the fifth degree, and in position to claim benefits in case of sickness or disability. On the 1st day of November, 1868, G. C. Davis, then residing at Brownsville, Oregon, became insane and unable to attend to his usual avocations; he was soon after sent to the Insane Asylum at East Portland, and there remained sick and insane till the 9th day of February, 1870, when he died. The term of his sickness was, therefore, 66½ weeks. It is claimed that under the by-laws of Apollo Lodge, he was entitled to benefits during the whole term of his sickness, at the rate of $10 per week, and that his widow was entitled to receive as a funeral benefit $100, making the total of $765. The claim, with all the required facts, was forwarded, in April, 1870, to Apollo Lodge, but, as before stated, that Lodge refused to pay more than $260, on the ground that the Lodge could not be liable to pay benefits except for a period commencing not more than one week anterior to the time the brother was reported to the Lodge as sick. The committee proceeded upon their construction of the second section of Art. IV., relating to benefits, and report that G. C. Davis being "a brother residing at a distance" need not be reported in order to make his claim good, but that his claim is fully substantiated by sending to the N. G. "a true statement of his case, verified by his oath and attested by the N. G. of the Lodge nearest to the place where he may be, under the seal thereof, or if no Lodge be near, then his case shall be stated by a respectable physician, and such statement shall be certified by a Magistrate, American Consul, or Master of a vessel." These requirements of the 2d section, article IV, of the By-Laws of Apolo Lodge, were fully complied with. Hence the conclusions and report of the Committee.

The report of the committee was adopted by the Grand Lodge.

QUESTIONS REFERRED.

Several qestions were submitted and referred—in relation to proceedings in certain events in the matter of the Odd Fellows' Mutual Life Insurance Association, in regard to a brother with the traveling P. W. visiting a Lodge which has not received it, etc.

NEW DISTRICTS CREATED.

Mr. McWhirter offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That there be two new Districts formed, comprising the following Lodges; Overland Lodge No. 23 and Eureka Lodge No. 32 to constitute District No. 18; and Baker City Lodge No. 25 and Elliam Lodge No. 31, to constitute District No. 19.

The Grand Lodge then adjourned till 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The Legal Tender Decision.

The following well considered article is from the New York Times:

The decision of December, 1869, against the validity of the Legal Tender Act, in its application to pre-existing debts, has been strengthened by the neglect of Congress to take measures for a return to specie payments. The Chief Justice and the Associate Justice who acted with him in resisting a reversal of this judgment, now, for the first time, carry out their views to its logical result, and insist that there is no power in Congress to apply the act to contracts made after its passage. If this had been maintained by a majority of the Court specie payments would be suddenly resumed, and the foundation of our whole banking system destroyed. The Chief Justice, who now looks complacently upon the Democracy, evidently intended that this should occur. In February, 1862, the act came into operation, and it has since become so much identified with the business of the country that the difficulty will be to return to the old basis. In the meantime, the Supreme Court, in exceeding its functions, has secured to the Democracy a candidate for the Presidency, in the person of Mr. Chase, who, as Secretary of the Treasury, placed Congress in the dilemma of being obliged either to pass the act to permit the prosecution of the war, or allow the rebellion to succeed.

From the origin of the Government it has been the practice of Congress to declare what shall constitute a legal tender for debts. Prior to the institution of the mint foreign coins of a certain value were declared to be a "legal tender for all debts and demands." After the mint had gone into operation our own as well as foreign coins, became a legal tender. On each successive alteration of our standard of coins, the new ones took the place of the old in this service. This is one of the very objects of money, and is a necessary duty devolved upon Congress, without the exercise of which there would be conflicting legislation in the several States. It is very desirable to conduct war on the basis of these coins, but in the event of there not being enough within the reach of the Government for its purposes, on the new theory of Mr. Chase, the defense would have to be postponed. Of course it would be very uncivil for foreign governments, whose forces might be collected for a blow at our existence, not to wait until we could coin enough to pay the expenses of defense. Happily for the country, however, the opinion of the Chief Justice did not prevail with the majority of his associates, who, in reversing the former judgment of the Court, not only establish the validity of the Legal Tender Act, but the great series of acts passed by Congress to put down the rebellion.

An Anecdote of Daniel Webster.

A correspondent of the Boston Advertiser furnishes the following:

In your remarks in regard to the effort of the joint commission now sitting at Washington to settle amicably questions in dispute, you truly say: "It would be useful now to read a sketch of the Webster-Ashburton treaty, of the way in which, by skillful, alternate yielding, and by the uniform display by each of a courteous and respectful consideration for the prejudices no less than the interests of the other, agreement was finally reached." I apprehend the country is hardly aware of the obligations it is under to the great and comprehensive mind of Webster in saving it from the horrors of a war with the then most powerful nation in the world, for the sake of a few acres of swamp and woodland. There is an item of personal history in the life of Webster, which your remarks call to mind. Soon after the close of the Webster-Ashburton treaty, the Hon. Seth Sprague, Geo. P. Richardson, Jacob Smith, Geo. Windsor and myself, all citizens of Duxbury, and neighbors of Mr. Webster, called on him at his mansion at Marshfield. We found him in good health and spirits, and of course the subject which had so recently absorbed so many anxious and weary hours, and which had baffled the skill of John Quincy Adams and others for many years was alluded to. I so distinctly recollect Mr. Webster's reply as though it were but yesterday. His countenance lighting up with animation and intelligence he said: "Gentlemen, had you known the state of things at one time, you would have hauled your ships to the wharf and stripped them." For a time there was no response. We felt that we were in the presence of one and the only one that had or could have saved us from war with England. Of that small party which made this neighborly call upon Mr. Webster, none are now living except Captain George Windsor and the writer.

MR. BEECHER IN THE PULPIT.—The New York correspondent of the Boston Journal says: Mr. Beecher's coloquial gifts are among the elements of his success. He treats his church like a family. To him the pulpit is no more sacred than the pew. He puts on no austerity and no outward signs of devotion. He comes on to the platform, flings down his hat on the floor, picks up his hymn book, manipulates it as a mechanic would a tool before using it. What other ministers would say to half a dozen brethren around the pulpit, Mr. Beecher would say to his whole congregation in the pulpit. In the lecture-room he comes into the side door, and, if it is cold, stands a while over the heater, tumbles up his hair, washes his hands in invisible water with his face toward the congregation, mounts his platform and takes his seat with neither table nor desk between him and the people. He begins the service abruptly, without prelude or introduction. He does not say, 'Let us sing,' or 'Let us praise God,' but simply says '134,' He sits during the entire performance, except when he leads in prayer. His talks are given in a sitting posture. He puts one leg up over the other, tilts back, puts both feet on the rounds of the chair, and takes his ease during the service."

CURING MEAT.—The following method has been thoroughly tested, and always proved satisfactory:

To one gallon of water add one and a half pounds of salt, half a pound of sugar, half an ounce of saltpetre, half an ounce of potash. In this ratio the pickle can be increased to any quantity desired. Let these be boiled together until all the dirt from the sugar rises to the top and is skimmed off. Then throw into a tub to cool, and when cold pour it over your beef or pork, to remain the usual time, say four or five weeks. The meat must be well covered with pickle, and should not be put down for at least two days after killing, during which time it should be slightly sprinkled with powdered saltpetre, which removes all the surface blood, etc., leaving the meat fresh and clean. Some omit boiling the pickle and find it to answer well—though the boiling purifies the pickle by throwing off the dirt always to be found in salt and sugar.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Thursday, May 18, 1871.

Gold has advanced from our last quotation to 112¼.

Currency quotations, at this city, 89c buying; 90c selling.

Exchange—On San Francisco, ½ per cent.; on New York, 1½ per cent.

Telegraphic transfers, on New York, 1¾ per cent. premium.

Bank rates of interest on loans for 90 days or less, 1 per cent.; outside rates, from 10 to 12 per cent. per annum. Money is readily obtainable on landed securities at the inside figure.

There is a very fair trade transacted in all wholesale and jobbing lines, and the general early anticipations of a prosperous season are being fully realized. The city wears an appearance of activity very seldom witnessed at this season of the year. Real estate continues active, with a rising tendency in prices, and improvements of various kinds are going forward in all parts of the city. The growth of the present season is far beyond that of any preceding period in the history of the city. Permanent prosperity seems to have dawned upon our people, and the encouraging aspect of affairs is having the effect to stimulate greater efforts in old enterprises and the undertaking of new ones, which in their consummation must have a still further good effect upon the whole country. Oregon has reason to rejoice at the awakening of her energies and to rely confidently upon a glorious future.

AGRICULTURAL GOODS are moving off freely, especially to the distant districts. Within the week a large number of harvesting machines and wagons have been shipped for destinations in Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and a few have gone up the Wallamet river. The sale of Eastern made wagons is a specially notable feature in this line of trade.

In other lines of trade, we have nothing new to mention. Business continues steadily good, with unchanged quotations.

PRODUCE—There is something of a reaction in flour and wheat, though we still quote the same figures. There is not much doing, and not much to be done, as the supply in the State to be disposed of is quite limited. We quote oats and barley higher. We notice, however, that the prices for both at San Francisco have eased off a little. The demand here is almost exclusively for local use, which is the reason the market is not affected unfavorably by the quotations at the Bay.

PROVISIONS—Trade is quiet, with a downward tendency in prices. Butter is still lower than last week; other quotations unchanged. Business in this line has been somewhat interfered with the past week by the unfavorable weather.
